DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4, 23 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 recites "the resistance to movement". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims. Also note that the parent claim defines several loads and forces. It is not clear from the claim language which load or force corresponds to this limitation.

Claim 23 recites "the resistance to movement". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims. Also note that the parent claim defines several loads and forces. It is not clear from the claim language which load or force corresponds to this limitation.

Claim 23 recites several limitations defining elements as slideable within the housing. These limitations appear to be repetitive as the parent claim already defines the sliding relations.

Claim 27 recites "the resistance to movement". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims. Also note that the parent claim defines several loads and forces. It is not clear from the claim language which load or force corresponds to this limitation.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-3, 7-12, 24-26 and 28 are allowed.

Claims 4, 23 and 27 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see pages 9-10, filed 9/27/2006, with respect to Isaacson have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of the claims has been withdrawn.
